Nashua Fair, September 1-2-3-4.

Amusements in Plenty. Sport of all Description. First Class Horse Racing

Of all the New England Fairs, that at Nashua September 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, which is the fourth annual event of the kind for that city, promises to be one of the best fairs of the year. Arrangements are now completed for a fair which will partake of the nature of an exhibition of the larger kind. Thousands of people from the surrounding cities and towns will attend and there will be fun for everybody and sport of the most interesting nature.

The Midway will be the largest ever seen in New England and will include a number of attractions that were at Buffalo and Charleston. Others from Coney Island and numerous popular bench reports have written for space for the Nashua Fair as the starting point for their circuit of the fall fairs. The application for locations on the Midway is causing the management much anxiety, but an effort to find room for all will be made.

The vaudeville attractions are the best that could be booked and forenoon and afternoon programs have been arranged for each day of the four days. These will be supplemented by band concerts, balloon ascensions and parachute drops, while a captive balloon will afford pleasure for those who wish to make short ascensions.

There will be four days of sport including some of the best harness racing ever seen on a New England half mile track. The stakes races for the fair, which closed early in the summer, included two races in which the purses are $2000 each and four races with $500 purse each. There will be several additional classes with ordinary $300 purses.

Monday, Labor Day, will see a grand holiday crowd at the fair, and Tuesday will be Grand Day. Wednesday is to be Governor's Day, and Thursday there will be a score of features to make Farewell Day long to be remembered. The exhibits of stock, vegetables, fruit, fancy work, poultry, pet stock, horses and very many classes will be exceedingly large.

Round trip tickets including an admission to the fair, good going September 1st to 4th, inclusive, and returning not after September 5th, will be on sale at this station and stations on the Worcester, Nashua & Portland division of the Boston & Maine R.R., also at many other principal stations on the road. Special train service will be in effect of September 3rd to and from many of the stations.

For detailed time at the stations and the rates, see the Boston & Maine posters.

The man who draws the biggest salary on earth has broken down from nervous prostration or some other collapse and must stop. He is Charles M. Schwab, aged about forty years, president of the great billion and a half dollars steel trust, whose annual salary is $250,000. He would probably be glad to give up all his money for as good sound health as many of the poorest who read these lines enjoy. The moral suggests itself.

Huse's hotel at Ossipee was struck by lightning recently and stripped of some clapboards, but luckily no one was injured.

Centre Sandwich Paragraphs.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris of Winthrop, Mass., are visiting at Will Heard's. Mrs. Carrie Smith and family are visiting her mother, Mrs. Susan Willey.

Next Sunday Aug. 31, Rev. Mr. Eaton of Campton, a former missionary to Bangkok, Siam, will preach at the Free Baptist church at 10.30 a.m.

Fred J. Gage, who has been in Hathorn, Mass. the past six months, is in town.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stevens of Salisbury, Mass., are visiting at Geo. O. Hanson's.

The concert given by The Moulton Farm guests and other talent, was a decided success. The attendance was very large. The violin playing of Mrs. Farr deserves special mention.

The work on the local telephone lines has begun and telephone over to Squam Lake will soon be put up.

HOLDERNESS

Mrs. I. H. Metcalf is in Boston for a few days.

Rev. F. B. Allen and family return home soon.

Land sports at Camp Asquam occur this week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Shumetell has purchased some land of R. P. Curry on the shore of Little Squam and will erect camps thereon for use next summer.

Summer people turned out en masse and attended the annual sale and entertainment held under the auspices of the Baptist society. The features of the program were reading by the Rev. Franklin Babb of Lewiston, Me., solo by Mrs. Richardson of Lowell, reading by Dr. B. M. Worthen of Andover and solo by Miss Sumner of Boston who sang Richardson of Lowell.

B. F. Jewell, the proprietor of the Mt. Livermore house, has been ill for some time, passed through a surgical operation, and at one time his recovery was considered very doubtful. He is now improving, and the hundreds of guests of this resort recently gave a benefit in his honor, which netted a large amount of money. Miss Harriet Maynard of Plymouth, a guest of Mt. Livermore, captivated the audience with her rich soprano voice and was obliged to respond to several encores.

Mr. Jones, private secretary to Congressman Powers, and Clarence Fuller, son of J. B. Fuller, are camping out near the Centre Harbor shore and have been enjoying the scenery here for a few days.

LAKE VIEW.

Mr. Anthony M. Gove and wife of Medford, Mass., spent last week at Kona camp.

Miss Addie Chase of Waterloo was the guest of Maud Cook last week.

Several from here attended camp-meeting at Alton Bay.

Charles Goodwin is on the sick list. Dr. Morrill attends him.

Charles Hill is circulating a petition to have the road moved in front of Z. L. Hollingsworth's house. Joseph Abbott met with quite a serious accident recently. He was thrown from his wagon and broke his collar bone, one rib started and a general shaking up.

We understand John Goodhue is to take charge of Mrs. Armstrong's new boat.

Miss May Bunker of Barnstead is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. J. Smith.

Mr. H. A. Smith, wife and E. L. Goodwin, called on friends here recently.

WINONA.

Miss Mattie Strong, the city missionary of Manchester, is visiting at her uncle's, W. R. Robie.

Joseph Gordon and family are in Portland, visiting his sister.

Miss Ethel Maloon of Meredith was at Mrs. B. B. Salkins last Thursday.

Mrs. Thomas Robie, who has been at W. R. Robie's, has returned to her home in Plymouth.

Miss Olive Haynes has returned home from Leon Harbor where she has been at

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Why are Messrs. Putney and Batchelder, would-be governors of New Hampshire, so strangely silent in regard to their attitude on the license question? So far as Mr. Batchelder is concerned, it is claimed that he has pledged himself to veto a license bill in case one is passed, should he be elected governor, but he has not seen fit to deny or affirm the rumor. He has been asked by a number of influential newspapers to define his policy, but not a word can be drawn from him except that he wishes to be governor. This will not do. It goes almost without saying that the next Governor of New Hampshire must define his policy before the caucuses are held.

The progress of road improvement is brisk throughout the whole country, but Michigan appears to be leading the way. In that State a model good roads train is steadily at work, consisting of a traction engine and road roller combined, which hauls five small cars for carrying stone, and a crusher. It will be readily seen that this road train must be a very powerful adjunct in the matter of road improvement as it does its own hauling and crushing as well as rolling. The need of road improvement appears by the following figures recently issued by the U. S. Agricultural Department: Average cost of transportation from farms to the nearest market of railroad over bad roads, not less than 25 cents per ton, per mile; on good roads not over 8 cents per ton, per mile. There is material for much sober reflection in these simple figures, which as every farmer will agree, are not overestimated.

The Woodville News made a very foolish assertion last week. It is in zeal in behalf of Putney, who is a local man, that it has endeavored to secure a five years' extension of time as railroad compensation. (10) The News declared that General Gale would not secure as many votes as Mr. Worcester did two years ago. Extravagant statements of that nature carry no weight. Only a few caucuses have been held and Gen. Gale has a large majority up to the present time. In Dover he secured every delegate, 22 in number. It is expected that Manchester will send a majority of Gale delegates, and the chances are that he will lead on the first ballot.

The managers of the Laconia Fair are to be congratulated upon their evident appreciation of the eternal fitness of things. For instance, Cyrus A. Sulloway's portrait is placed in the Fair Bulletin on the page headed "Patriot's Row," and it reposes there alone in all its symmetrical beauty, and significance. "Cy" is the greatest "take" in New Hampshire politics at the present time, which is saying a great deal, and the Laconia Fair people did the proper thing when they assigned him that page.

Mr. Putney pretends that Mr. Batchelder is the candidate of the Grange. Is this a fact? If so, what attitude will Belknap to Pomonona Grange take in the matter? If memory serves us right the Grange passed a resolution some time ago, denouncing the action of those who wished to introduce politics into the order, and even asked for a resolution favoring a change in the officers of the State Grange. This was aimed directly at Mr. Batchelder.

Brother Putney of the Manchester Mirror is bounding the "noble army of leg pullers." That some noble army has been in the field in every campaign since Noah was old and the modesty of our brokenup brother has not been such that it has refused the fruit of any of its victories. —Nashua Press.

At Beebe Plain, Vt., stands half of a postoffice, the other half being across the line in Canada, a man acting as postmaster of the Canada side and his daughter being the U. S. postmaster.

Putney's unhappy reference to members of his own party as leg pullers has not been received. He has been hurt by his own petard. By almost unanimous vote he has declared the most artistic leg puller in the State.

Centre Harbor News.

Mrs. Geo. E. Hanson, president of the Woman's Progress Club of Centre Harbor, met with a runaway accident Monday afternoon. Mrs. Hanson came to Meredith for the Centre Harbor mail bag. The horse she drove was hitched to a small phaeton, and the vehicle must have hit the animal as it became frantic just after Mrs. Hanson left the Meredith postoffice. She endeavored to get control of the horse, but could not do so, and when about two miles from Meredith, near Yessie's farm, she called for help. Frank Chapman, who was walking along the road, carrying a rifle, stepped in front of the animal and hit it across the head with the firearm. The horse's nose was broken by the force of the blow, and the barrel of the rifle was badly bent. The blow stopped the career of the horse, and as it fell one of the wagon shafts was driven into its neck. The vehicle was badly wrecked and the horse had to be shot Tuesday morning.

J. G. Abbott met with a painful accident on the morning of the 22nd instant. He was thrown from his wagon and sustained a fracture of the collar bone, in addition to other injuries.

Mrs. Everett H. Gould is in town. It is reported that Mrs. George Mallard is quite ill.

Misses Hattie and Millie Sturtevant of Boston are visiting in town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paine are visiting relatives in Somerville, Mass.

Arthur Turner of Laconia, whose family have been spending the summer here, has returned from a trip to Sweden in the interest of the I. O. G. T.

Mrs. Ezra Perkins has been entertaining Misses Gertrude and Mary Louise McDonald, of Malden, the past week.

A Catholic service was held at Independence Hall on Sunday.

Wilbur Emery, who is working in Tilton, spent Sunday with his mother here.

Miss Alice and Roscoe Follett of Gifford spent Sunday at Point Peace cottage.

Bradford Dickinson and wife called on friends here Monday.

Frederick Schultz of Boston is spending his vacation at Point Lodge Camp.

MOULTONBORO FALLS.

Miss Emma Taylor of Lynn, Mass., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. R. B. Durbin.

Mr. Edward L. Goodwin of Newtown, Mass., is spending a week at his sister's, Mrs. Horace A. Smith.

Mrs. Belle Radcliff of Melford Hillside, Mass., accompanied by her niece Seavish Coldrick, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Ellen Watson, and other relatives here.

Mrs. Emma Colby of Lakeport was been spending a week at her grandson's, Harry Richardson.

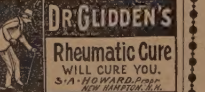

Henry Grant and William Chase were at Wolfboro Saturday.

Miss Eva Taylor returned to her home at Sandwich Monday after spending a few days at R. B. Durgin's, Dorham Tilton of Revere, Mass., spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tilton, recently.

Mr. Rex Adams is at his sister's, Jennie Adams.

The Fair and sale held by the ladies Monday, the 18th, afternoon and evening, was quite a success, netting $111.00.

Mrs. Graham Tilton of Revere, Mass., is spending a few weeks at Henry Tilton's.

manufactured; because we buy the best. We know our trade won't have anything else. The kind that's just a little lower in price may be a little cheaper, but they are unsatisfactory to our customers. Purity and wholesomeness are the most prominent features of our groceries. We never sacrifice quality to make a low price, but we sell a high grade line of goods at little figures.

PEASE & TOWLE

For the next two weeks we shall have our Annual Clearing-up Sale of 'Boots and Shoes.

We have a whole counter full of bargains with price marked on each pair. Some of them have most excellent wearing qualities, but are not quite up to date in style.

Some of them are good style, but broken lots. Only a few sizes left. We have priced them all with a view to closing them out, even if we don't get half what they cost us. School begins soon and if you want to "shoe up" your boy or girl, now is your opportunity.

NATURE'S METHOD OF CURING DYSPEPSIA

Nature's only method of curing dyspepsia is to heal the diseased parts. When the stomach and bowels are healthy they work unconsciously and thoroughly, every atom of food is digested and assimilated, the blood is enriched, the muscles strengthened and the whole body in a vigorous condition.

When these organs are diseased, digestion is imperfect, the blood impoverished and filled with impurities, the liver, nerves and kidneys become deranged and the whole body is sick.

To try and rectify this condition by depositing the food with drugs and digestive ferments is not only absurd but exceedingly dangerous. There is nothing known in the science of medicine that can take the place of the human stomach. Drugs do not and cannot digest food, they only decompose it, and while this process relieves the patient for the time being, it has already accepted an engagement. Emily was daily presented to the stomach, who gave a short, unintelligible order to his minister, and the latter told her she was engaged.

She left Paris three days later with her other girls, mostly French, in charge of two old English shrews who have been long attached to the shah's household.

She remained at Teheran four months before she was summoned. Then the two American girls were unexpectedly summoned at midnight and asked if they would entertain the shah, who was troubled with sleeplessness. The potentate was found in his bed surrounded by a crowd of attendants, among whom was a physician, who, upon being summoned, found the patient with sleeplessness.

Just one small tablet before meals and after meals, and the shah's dyspepsia will soon be able to eat anything fit for human food without the least discomfort.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Columbia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician of Panama, Columbia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had a patient, a young lady of sixteen years of age who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Every thing I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing weaker every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as my last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better, inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by Geo. F. Sanborn, Druggist.

No Chance for Jealousy.

For a moment the father regarded the suitor thoughtfully. "If I refuse my consent," he said, at last, "I suppose you will elope." "We have no such intention," returned the suitor, frankly. "You have?" "I returned the father, seemingly strangely disconcerted. "No, sir." "No likelihood of an elopement?" "None at all." "In that case," said the father with a sigh. "I suppose I will have to stand the expense of a wedding. Take her, my boy—take her."—Brooklyn Eagle.

FLEES FROM HAREM.

Cincinnati Girl Has a Narrow Escape in Persia.

Fights the Amorous Shah More Than Two Years and Finally Runs Away—Thrilling Story of First-Class Life.

Emily Barnaby, a Cincinnati girl, has just arrived at Paris from Teheran, Persia, after a most extraordinary adventure. She was among a list of beauties selected at Paris two years ago by the shah for various offices at his court and sent ahead to Teheran under escort to await his pleasure. Emily then was a destitute student of music and had applied to the reigning Persian minister upon the advice of a friend, also an American, who had already accepted an engagement. Emily was daily presented to the shah, who gave a short, unintelligible order to his minister, and the latter told her she was engaged.

She left Paris three days later with her other girls, mostly French, in charge of two old English shrews who have been long attached to the shah's household. CHOICE MISCELLANY

The Soldier and His Clothing. At a banquet in Manila General Chaffee, just back from the campaign in China, made a speech in which he deplored the careless dress of the American troops and urged the officers to employ good tailors so as to set a good example in the matter of dress to the men. This criticism by General Chaffee, the war department says, is undoubtedly essential.

European officers are sticklers for proper dress when on duty, and the farther they are from home the more careful they become with their clothing. Not so with the American soldier when he gets away. Then the western idea of carelessness, swinging gait asserts itself in all things.

The war department officials say they wish Americans would be a little more careful in this matter of dress, but there is no suggestion that any new regulations are to be put into effect. The men are all furnished with good, well fitting clothes. The American soldier is clad in a uniform that is more expensive and better fitting when new than the uniform of the soldier of any other nation. The whole trouble is that the soldier does not properly take care of his uniform. He simply will not keep his coat buttoned when the weather gets too warm for him. The officers sometimes try to change the matter, but the men simply have a good many things to look after, and this alone would be a great task. So the American soldier avenges himself by neglecting his uniform, and his officer is proud of him even beside the native soldiers in the world.

New York's Good Example. The next day Emily was summoned to the shah's court. She was summoned to the shah's court. She was summoned to the shah's court.

It was long ago that the shah died right in formally abandoning the rule under which convicts were compelled to march in the lockstep.

The next day Emily was summoned to the shah's court. She was summoned to the shah's court. She was summoned to the shah's court.

Men not yet hardened to crime, but doing penance for their first offense, acquired the same noticeable shuffle and when they came from the prison walls with the determination to return to an honest course of life frequently failed of employment because that prison brand.

The old legal notion was that it was better for ninety and nine guilty men to escape than for one innocent man to be convicted. It was this notion that ruled the shah. He was a man of the old school, and he was a man of the old school.

A Thrifty Horse on a Hot Day. How much water can a horse drink without feeling any ill effect? Here is a question that several people connected with a Kensington mill are asking themselves. The mill is a large one, and it is a large one.

It has been almost a custom to say the Toronto Mail and Empire. "Owing to the difficulty of obtaining a divorce in Canada, for citizens unhappily married to go to the United States and obtain a divorce after a few months' residence. Returning to Canada, some of these have remarried in the belief that the divorce was valid. No longer the case, the house of lords in Earl Russell's case is that only British couples can annul a marriage contracted under British law.

Quaint Little Books. Ferguson Haines of Biddeford, Me., has two quaint and rare and valuable little books. One is about 2 by 4 inches in dimensions, and the paper cover is decorated with bright colored flowers. Inside on the title page is the following: "A pocket almanac for the year 1770. Fitted to the use of Pennsylvania and the neighboring provinces. With several useful additions, by Dr. Saunders, Phil., printed and folded by Benjamin Franklin and D. Hall." The other book is several times larger. Its date is "Pennsylvania, 1740," and it also has an almanac.

His Sight Threw Tened. "While picking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dible, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison into his hair, and it got into his eyes, and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. This application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. C. W. Morrison.

After He Employed Five Different Physicians and Took Nearly a Wagon Load of Medicine, With No Benefit.

"It is with my sincere thanks and gratitude," writes Patrick Kieley of North Pownall, Vt., to Dr. David Kennedy of Montreal, N.Y. "I write you of the great benefit I received from your medicine. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. My case was a severe one and a nuisance to the doctors. About eighteen months ago I began to feel a pain in my right side. It gradually grew worse until I was compelled to give up work entirely. I would belch up quantities of acid and water. I employed five different physicians, and after taking about a wagon load of medicine, I seemed to grow sicker. By the advice of a friend, I began to use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. After taking the first bottle I felt some better, and by the time I had taken three bottles the pain was entirely gone. I have tried all of the different sarsaparillas, compounds and medicines on the market, and I consider Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy the superior of them all."
